

Call for Occasional Paper Series

Date : August 6, 2014

We launched our Occasional Paper Series (ISSN 2158-5660) in 2010 with the intention that it would provide a novel, peer-reviewed, forum in which to publish research that would be hard to publish in the conventional home of an academic journal, but that was more extensive or rigorous than a blog entry. Since then, we've published a white paper on cultural protocols, a multimedia guide to plastic pollution and citizen activism, a paper (written by an undergraduate) about the devastating impact of Hurricane Katrina on Waveland, LA, and an extensive book of experimentation inside UCL's Ethnographic Collections.

We are actively seeking further submissions to continue harnessing the power of the web to publish alternative and interesting things. Submissions can include:

1. Alternative writing formats
2. Photo essays
3. Sound and Video
4.
Comics, Manga, Animations

And so on...

All submissions are peerreviewed by our chief editors or editors at large and will be indexed by the library of congress. Please contact Haidy Geismar (h.geismar@ucl.ac.uk) for further information about how to submit work.
