

Horniman Talks: Food, Drink and Feasting

Date : April 18, 2013

From tea to gingerbread, this series of talks is inspired by the wonderful food, drink and feasting objects in our world collections. Respected food historians and leading anthropologists will provide fascinating insights into objects we've uncovered as part of Collections People Stories: Anthropology Reconsidered – an exciting three year project focused on reviewing and reassessing the global significance of the Horniman's anthropology collections from Africa, the Americas, Oceania, Europe and Asia.

<http://www.horniman.ac.uk/about/food-and-feasting>

Tues 23 Apr: Tea Drinking Along the Silk Road

Helen Saberi (author of Tea: A Global History and food historian)

Tues 21 May: Western Polynesian Food and Drink: Acts of Power

Dr Andy Mills (University of East Anglia)

Tues 11 Jun: Polish Food: Memories in Deportation and Exile

Dr Monica Janowski (School of Oriental and African Studies)

Tues 25 Jun: Hot Spice Gingerbread and Edible Symbols

Dr Kaori O'Connor (University College London)

Tues 23 Jul: Stories of Cheese-Making Told by its Tools

Professor Harry West (School of Oriental and African Studies)

7–8pm. Doors open 6.30pm. Free.

To book email communitylearning@horniman.ac.uk or call 020 8291 8686.